and B. D. Peachy, of Williamsburg, Presidential elector, C. B. Jones, Jr., of Ashland; member State executive committee, George A. Hanson; district committee chairman, Joseph W. Stewart; State committeemen—V. Donati, B. D. Graves, John Thompson, T. B. Sneed and B. D. Peachy.

Cabell-Allen-Moore-Arnold Wing.—Delegates to national convention—C. L. Harrison, of New Kent county, and J. W. Sargent, of Richmond, Alternates—C. Ridgway Moore and Edgar Allan, Jr., of Richmond, Presidential elector, James A. Marcus, State executive committeeman, B. E. Arnold, district committee chairman, C. Ridgway Moore, State committeemen—J. J. Hall, F. C. Arnold, H. W. Mannel, J. C. McKisson and M. M. Williams.

The meeting of Cabell's followers was the first to open. More than an hour was consumed in hearing from contested counties, the uncontested delegates acting as a committee on credentials. As the name of Cabell county was called a delegate would tell the manner in which he had been elected, and was at once seated.

Nearly all of them told how the opposing faction had held meetings, as was done in Richmond, and denounced the methods resorted to.

Liquor at Chesterfield.—J. C. McKisson, delegate from Chesterfield, said that after the meeting of the Brady-Treat-Hanson-Flegenheimer faction, which he declared, was attended by about fifty men and boys from Petersburg and Richmond, two suit-cases packed full of half-pint bottles of whiskey were opened and more than forty distributed among the crowd. He said that on account of the participation of the alleged non-residents the meeting was void, and that those loyal to the organization held a second meeting after the so-called visitors had retired.

W. T. Mookler, delegate from King William county, said that the other side had controlled the meeting because Morgan Treat had posted men on all roads leading to the courthouse, and they stopped all Republicans opposed to him with the information that the meeting had either been postponed or was over.

C. Ridgway Moore at length told of the city convention at Belvidere Hall, where he said that Brady, Treat, Hanson and Flegenheimer had corrupted

How Society Woman Wards Off Wrinkles

"Wrinkles are not strangers to me, but when I acquire such disfigurements I know how to lose them in a hurry." A well-known society matron confided this to me. I had wondered how she, with her strenuous social duties and late hours, could so completely ward off the usual marks of care and dissipation.

"I don't wear wrinkles in public, nor those horrid rings beneath the eyes," she continued, "since I've learned what plain, ordinary axolite will do. When any of those hateful marks appear, I send to the drug store for an ounce of powdered axolite and a half pint of witch hazel. I mix the two, bathe my face in the mixture—that's the whole secret. I've never tried anything that works so miraculously. My chin is inclined to double; this trouble, too, I keep in check in the same way."—Emily Dean, in Town Talk.

about 800 men, of which he was confident that not 150 were Republican voters in the city of Richmond. He said the crowd was composed of employees of the City Street Cleaning Department; said he saw some janitors from the City Hall, employees of the City Gas Works, a local cannery company and a large number of boys not then in long trousers. He declared that these men were brought together by the enemy with the inducement of plenty to eat and drink, which, he said, was served in a neighboring barroom.

Mr. Moore also declared that the other side was using Democratic workers to further their cause. When the election of a district chairman was gone into Mr. Moore moved that the present organization, with John McMillan, of Henrico county, in the chair, and C. L. Harrison, of New Kent, as secretary, be made permanent. A motion to this effect was adopted. Mr. Cabell called for a division, although no "noes" had been heard, and Mr. Allen was quickly on his feet and explained that as the temporary officers of the town were elected by unanimous consent, sent Mr. Moore be re-elected chairman. This was done.

Brady-Hanson Meeting.—The meeting of the Brady-Hanson-Treat-Flegenheimer contingent was attended only by white men, and a credentials committee was selected from uncontested city and county delegations. Two negroes who had gained admission were asked to retire, although the meeting was an open one. That of the other was held behind closed doors, and many would-be spectators were denied admission. Among those turned down was M. K. Lowry, collector of internal revenue.

With a few opening remarks, Mr. Hanson referred to the negroes, and said that while he considered the Republican party their place, he did not regard them as being socially capable to interfere in any way with the administration of the party.

He said that he and the other leaders of his side were anxious to build up a white party in Virginia, and did not intend to submit to the rule of a few officeholders.

"It is time for the negro to take a back seat in politics," he said. "We have rightfully for 100 years, thirty of thirty-eight delegates in this district. If you will notice the delegation appointed by the officeholders you will see among them eight Federal officeholders of the city of Richmond. That is why they are making the fight to the last ditch—to the last gasp—to keep control of Federal patronage in this district. Their purpose is not to keep the control for the benefit of the Republican party, but for the control of their own future advancement and welfare."

"I want it to go out to the world to challenge their position and I want it known what they are trying to do, and we are going to put it up to Roanoke, the White House, Chicago and to Mr. Taft how the Richmond Federal officeholders are not trying to build up a Republican party in Virginia, as he told them to do, 'but are trying to smother it in Virginia.'"

When he responded to his election as a national delegate Mr. Brady declared that the other side was supported by negroes, and that they were then engaged in holding what he characterized as a black-and-tan convention.

Following his election as chairman Mr. Stewart swore that he would never be a party to any such high-handed proceeding as was handed out to him yesterday morning, when the doors of the convention hall were locked.

Martin Not Indorsed.—Mr. Jones, chosen as elector, said that Virginia was geographically a Republican State, but that it would not come into its own until it had thrown off "the fawning parasites who cling to the administration."

The non-indorsement of National Committeeman Alvah H. Martin and State Chairman C. Bascom Slemp, by either side, is looked upon by some as rather curious, connected with the facts that the "outs" only promised their support to the candidate of the party.

Being aware that the enemy was prepared to develop the convention into a dual meeting, Mr. Moore last week rented Toney's Hall in addition to Leader Hall to prevent its use by the opposition.

The "outs" admit that they are fighting for retributive justice, and say that the whole rumpus was caused by Cabell; that he could have cleared up the tangle.

The "ins" merely say that the "outs" want to get in. The fight will be carried to the State Convention, which meets on March 12 in Roanoke, and to the Chicago Convention next summer. In the meantime there is no hope of healing the breach.

At a meeting yesterday morning of five members of the Third District Congressional Committee, a list of delegates from both sides was made up. It was directed that this be presented to Mr. Moore through the secretary of the committee. Mr. Treat attempted to give a copy of it to Mr. Moore, but the latter would not receive it.

Claims Twenty-Eight Delegates.—In reply to the assertion of Mr. Hanson on the floor of the convention of his party that he had thirty out of thirty-eight delegates, Mr. Allan said last night that his side had twenty-eight out of the thirty-eight delegates, while among their ranks were five uncontested delegates, and the anti-Cabell faction had only two.

Mr. Treat, Mr. Allan said, after the meeting had been called to order, served notice on Mr. Moore of a contest in Hanover, which, he said, if legal, will bring the number down to three to two.

On the temporary roll, Mr. Allan declared, his side had twenty-eight out of thirty-eight delegates, while on the permanent roll there were the names of fifty-six men who had been duly elected and seated in the convention.

"I've got an idea that the American Citizen knows a good thing when he sees it. Some folks say that's only my own fool notion about it, but I think I'm right. I'm going to try to prove that I'm right, and that's why I'm making this offer. I've been selling about the best whiskey that ever passed your lips and charging $2.85 a gallon for it. My customers said it was worth every cent of $3.50, and I knew that was so before they told me. I call this whiskey 'Old Mont Day,' after myself, because I'm proud of it. I'm going to give you a chance to try this whiskey at my expense, and if you don't like it, you don't have to buy it. Just cut out this advertisement, and sign your name and address on the lines at the bottom, and mail to me with $2.85. I'll send the whiskey—four full quarts—to you by express prepaid. You try it—try a good lot of it—and if it's not right in every way, send the balance back, and I'll send you your $2.85, and I'll never murmur or ask a question. In addition to this I'll send you as a present, a full pint flask of my own special 'Very Old Stock,' worth 75 cents of any man's good money. So you see this advertisement is worth just 75 cents to you, and you can't even run a chance if you want to, because I'm offering to take the whiskey back if it don't suit you to a 'T.' Of course, I'll not send you a free pint after your second order. Couldn't afford that at all, as I'm selling you $3.25 whiskey for $2.85. But it's free to you with your first order. If I'm right about you folks knowing a good thing when you see it, I'll get a barrel of orders within a couple of days. If the other folks are right, and you don't take advantage of this big special offer, I'll not be out much in money, and I'll have a bit more experience. But I DO think that you'll use this ad., and I think you'll use it N-O-W. Sign your name here. And your address here. Now tuck in that $2.85 and mail to me at once. Or, make it $5.00 even and I'll ship 2 full gallons, in glass jugs, and the free pint to boot."

SUFFOLK FEARS FAMINE IN WATER

Council and Board of Trade Make Appeal to the Legislature.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Suffolk, Va., February 19.—Suffolk's threatened water famine is causing local alarm, and the pending water bill in the General Assembly has caused much concern. There was a hasty call of the Council and Board of Trade tonight, and the following telegram was addressed to Suffolk's Senator and House Delegate.

"To our Senator and Representative in the General Assembly of Virginia. 'The Board of Trade and Council of the city of Suffolk earnestly protest against the passage of Senate Bill No. 28, whereby it is sought to confer upon the city of Norfolk the power to acquire by condemnation the properties of the Portsmouth, Berkeley and Suffolk Water Company, unless the bill is amended in such manner as to properly safeguard the interests of Suffolk. The bill, as now offered, provides that quality and pressure, and at the same rate, shall be supplied to the city of Norfolk. We ask that similar provision be made for Suffolk. 'We feel that this is only just and reasonable. The plant of the water company is within 300 yards of the corporate limits of Suffolk, and has always supplied its inhabitants with water. Its pipes are already laid in our streets, and there is no other source of supply within a reasonable distance of our city. The water company is now operating under a contract which supplies Portsmouth, Berkeley and Suffolk at the same rates. In view of the fact that it is necessary to conduct water at least eighteen miles to Portsmouth and Berkeley, it would be manifestly unfair not to grant to us the same service and rates. 'Through you we appeal to the Legislature of Virginia for a fair and careful consideration of our claims in this matter, which is of vital importance to the inhabitants of our city.'"

NO EFFORT AT MEDIATION

Miners' Great Strike Scheduled to Begin March 1.

London, February 19.—Although the country is now within ten days of the coal strike, which will involve hundreds of thousands of miners and which Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary, has described as threatening "the greatest national catastrophe in our history," there is no movement as yet at mediation. Although 100,000 miners have handed in their notice to quit work on March 1, the government is reluctant to force itself upon the disputants, and both sides appear to resent the idea of interference. Doubtless, Premier Asquith and the president of the Board of Trade are anxiously studying the question, and Sir Edward Grey has gone out of his way to appeal to those involved in the dispute to come to terms instead of plunging into a situation which is bound to prove ruinous to the country. Probably nothing will be done for a few days, as the miners are extremely anxious to learn whether the foreign workers will support the strike. A meeting of the executive committee of the International Miners' Federation will be held privately in London on Wednesday to determine upon what action shall be taken. In the same way the Miners' Federation awaits the views of the transportation workers of the federation, whose council will meet at Manchester Friday to consider the crisis. A hopeful sign in the situation is that the men's funds are not sufficient to maintain a prolonged strike.

Drawn as Juror to Serve at Term Opening March 4.

Minneapolis, N. Y., February 19.—Among the residents of Nassau county whose names were drawn to serve as trial jurors at the term of court beginning March 4 next, is Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, of Oyster Bay. Most of the others on the panel with the former president are farmers and business men of the county, but the names of Payne Whitney and Robert Dudley Whitney, of the Wheatley Hills colony also appear. The names were drawn this morning in open court by County Judge James P. Niemann and Sheriff De Mott.

Anderson—Cooper. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Frederickburg, Va., February 19.—John E. Anderson, of Nelson county, and Miss Nora Maggie Cooper, of Orange county, were married Thursday at the residence of Orange of Rev. A. J. Harlow, who performed the ceremony. They will reside at Afton.

Baltimore, Md., February 19.—Representatives of sixteen Southern States and officials of railroad and transportation companies will meet in this city next Tuesday morning to discuss plans for the agricultural development of the South and the immigration question as affecting that section. The States that will be represented are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

available men was not somewhat of a reflection upon Major Wood. Mr. Creamer replied by reiterating his praise of the superintendent's official conduct. He made no charge, he proceeded, against any one, but thought the whole proposition a peculiar transaction. He at least wanted an amendment making the minimum price to be paid by a contractor 80 cents a day for men and 60 cents for women.

The Speaker ruled that the bill could not be amended, but Mr. Oliver called attention to the fact that if the vote by which the bill was passed were reconsidered it could be changed in committee.

Man Kills His Friend and Police Call It Accident.

Newark, N. J., February 19.—Maximilian Applebauer, twenty-six years of age, who is said to have been a poet and writer, was shot and killed here last night while exhibiting an automatic magazine gun to Mieslaw Gorski.

Applebauer removed the magazine from the gun and passed the weapon to Gorski to examine. Believing the removal of the magazine had rendered the gun harmless Gorski raised it and pulled the trigger, sending a bullet through his friend's heart.

The police found that a cartridge had remained in the barrel of the gun after the removal of the magazine. They accepted Gorski's statement and regarded the shooting as accidental.
